GRAIN STORAGE FACILITY LOANS

Farmers who intend to harvest grain this year for market should take inventory now of the space available on the farm for storage of this grain, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) county committee advises.
The storage of grain on the farm can mean more money in farmers' pockets, C. D. Lewis, ASC county chairman says. It is now too late to construct storage for the wheat harvest this summer, and there is plenty of time yet to put in storage facilities for corn and soybeans to be harvested later.
Mr. Lewis said that there is a program available through ASC whereby farmers lacking immediate cash for the purchase of storage bins may take out farm storage facility loans. These loans cover up to 80 per cent of the out-of-pocket costs of the storage facility, including grain conditioning equipment if part of the storage facility. Loans are repayable in four equal annual installments with 4 per cent interest on the unpaid balance, the chairman said.
It has been proven that grain can be safely stored on Virginia farms if properly handled and clean grain is put into clean bins. With picker-shellers coming into use more and more, Mr. Lewis said that the harvest of corn is much earlier than it used to be, and much corn is harvested with high moisture content. For this reason it is highly important that corn be conditioned to prevent mold and enhance its keeping quality. State grain officials have said that in normal years corn harvested after mid-October can usually be safely stored until mid-April.
The price of corn quoted in mid-April this year was 20 cents per bushel above the average price of corn on October 15, 1959. This means that farmers would realize around $200 more profit on 1,000 bushels of corn by selling in April than they would have by selling last October, which is nearly half the cost of a storage bin of that size.
Mr. Lewis urged farmers who are interested in farm storage bins for this year's crop to call at the ASC county office immediately if they would like to consider a storage facility loan. Also, he said that farmers who are interested in loans on bins for corn and soybeans should begin to make plans now rather than wait until the harvest time.

Errors often arise when men try to prove that they were right.

New Bridge Across James At Bent Creek

A total of $292,658 is allocated in a newly highway program starting July 1, for the construction of a new bridge over the James River and Chesapeake and Ohio Railway at Bent Creek. This is listed as a partial allocation, indicating that the project may involve additional money before completion. This is a long-desired project in this area. It is on U. S. Route 60, linking Appomattox and Nelson Counties.
The existing span is of an ancient vintage, with only one traffic lane, and has long needed replacement.
There is no indication of when work will start on this project, other than that it is in the tentative allocations for the fiscal year starting July 1.
The same announcement of tentative allocations, granted $35,000 for curb and gutter, sidewalk and street widening in the Town of Appomattox. It is presumed that this will be a continuation of the work done last year on Route 460 within the town limits.
The total tentative allocations in the state in construction funds for interstate, primary and urban highways for the 12 months beginning July 1, was $124,279,531.
Public hearings on these tentative allocations will be held in Roanoke on May 26.

Interest Shown In Golf Club

An encouraging response has resulted from a notice in our issue of last week as to the possible formation of a Golf Club in Appomattox. There is a possibility that an arrangement can be worked out for use of the site of a former local golf course, on the Ferguson estate "Brick House" farm just west of Appomattox on Route 460.
Thus far, over 30 persons have expressed an interest in joining A golf club here. It had been suggested that those interested contact C. T. Moses, Jr., Mayor; Dr. S. R. Lawson, or Billy Conner. Over thirty persons have contacted one or more of the above, and they feel that this is a sufficient indication of interest to go forward with plans for an Appomattox Go f Club.
The next step could be to call a meeting of interested persons and set up a committee to deal with the owners of the property to work out a possible lease. It is likely that such a meeting will be called. And in the meantime, interested sports men might still contact any one of the three leaders mentioned above.

Forest Fire Loss Is Down

The loss to forest fires in the 10 county Southside District for 1960 is less than for the same period in 1959, Jay Farmville District Headquarter's Foresters.
The loss for the period January 1 to April 8, 1960, has been 178 acres to 45 fires, while in 1959, 130 fires burned 750 acres.
Forest Wardens say that while the early spring was exceptionally wet this year, April has been windy and dry, but that less than the average number of fires have escaped. Forestry personnel believe the reduction in fires during extremely dry windy weather is due principally to public cooperation and an awareness of the danger of fires.
Fires caused by brush and trash burning, and smokers, continue to lead in the causes of fires, however fires escaping from unlawful fires started before 4:00 P. M. have decreased. The ten county districts has had only 16 violations of the 4:00 P. M. law since March 1, but forest wardens remind that the law is in effect until May 15.
The largest fire this spring burned 60 acres in Charlotte County, and Prince Edward County lost 40 acres to one fire.
With the increased use for forest products and the important value of timberland, foresters feel that the public be cautious with fire and continue to reduce the loss.
